

Durham Centre for
Ancient and Medieval
Philosophy

The International Medieval Mind Conference. 30th June-2nd July 2022

Call for Papers

The first International Medieval Mind Conference is being organised in partnership between the International Robert Grosseteste Study Centre, Bishop Grosseteste University and the Durham Centre for Ancient and Medieval Philosophy, Durham University. It will take place at Bishop Grosseteste University, Lincoln, UK -30th June-2nd July 2022. This conference will bring together delegates from multi-disciplinary backgrounds who are interested in any aspect of medieval thought including, though not exclusive to: theology, philosophy, science or the liberal arts.

We are calling for proposals for 20 minute papers. Your proposal should include a title and it should be between 200-250 words in total. It should also include your name and (if applicable) your academic affiliation.

Proposals should be sent to: jack.cunningham@bishopg.ac.uk. Deadline for submission- 17/12/21.

